

CONCEPTUAL MODEL FOR NURSING

- Broader than a theory, a conceptual model specifies nursing's focus of inquiry and may thus lead to the development of theories that will prove useful not only to nurses but to other health professionals as well.
- Adam believes that a theory is useful to more than one discipline, but that a conceptual model for a discipline is useful only to that discipline.
- A conceptual model consists of assumptions, beliefs and values, and major units.

- Adam developed Virginia Henderson's concepts (Nursing Need Theory) within Dorothy E. Johnson's (Behavioural System's Model) structure of a conceptual model.
- She describes the goal of nursing as maintaining or restoring the client's independence in the satisfaction of the 14 fundamental needs. Each need has a biological, physiological, and psychological aspect.
- The nurse complements and supplements the client's strength, knowledge, and will.

TO BE A NURSE (1980)

- In her book, Être Infirmière in 1979 (To Be a Nurse, 1980), she applies Virginia Henderson's definition of nursing to

Johnson's model and identifies the assumptions, beliefs and values, and major units.

- In the latter category, she includes the goal of the profession, the beneficiary of the professional service, the role of the professional, the source of the beneficiary's difficulty, the intervention of the professional, and the consequences.

MAIN COMPONENTS

Goal of the profession:

- The end the member of the profession strives to achieve

Beneficiary

- A person or a group of people who the professional directs their activities like the client

Role

- This is the part that the professional plays. It is the societal function of the professional

Source of difficulty

- The probable origin of the clients' difficulty to which the professional is prepared to cope

Interventions

- The focus of the professional's attention, the moment they intervene with the clients

Consequences

- The results of the professional's effort to attain the ideal and limited goal

MODELES CONCEPTUELS

- A classic paper which argues importance in shaping a way of thinking and providing a framework for practice (Adam, 1999)
- Adam's argument for an ideological framework in nursing was described in a
